MAKAR: RELEASE OF THE ENGAGING SINGLE "LOVE AND CONFUSION"; LEARN MORE AND CHECK

That irresistible blues-rock sense , permeated by an incisively alternative-rock possibility , with effusive and party vocals , where Latin percussions and synthesizers in profusion attack the accurate melodies that are distilled in "Love And Confusion" , the new single by the duo MAKAR , formed by the American couple Andrea DeAngelis and Mark Purnell . The song is part of the newly released album "Fancy Hercules" !

YO

Blues being conducted at the piano usually brings a very hypnotic sensorial archetype , and it is no different with the pearl we have here. The female voice brings a most adorable sense of the sixties , while the unfailing percussion that emerges as an element of surprise , takes us directly to the eighties. Despite being a short and urgent firework , the diversity presented is one of the richest !

Ngels brings uniqueness and unique sound in new single "What You Wanted"

Ngels can already be considered a strong name,

The encore brings an epic propensity resplendent with rhythmic beauty , making it yet another great asset to this incredible track ! It's no wonder that MAKAR has been receiving the most "fun" public and critical visibility in recent times, see the significant nomination to the Top Ten Indie Guitar Bands of 2015, for the video clip of "I Hate My Job" , alongside imposing names like MGMT , Vampire Weekend and Ra Ra Riot . The couple develops their creative potential meteorically, the relationship itself already accentuates the conceptual character that is directly enacted to the production of MAKAR's repertoire . This since the beginning of work in 2002... The new release will inevitably expand its name to the most inhospitable corners, because "Love And Confusion" is SENSATIONAL ! Available below:
